

10 LOOP-THE-LOOP IS A SCREAMER. TRY TO EVADE ALL JURY DUTY

Women Get Hysterical Over Sensational but Deceptive Vaudeville Act at Hyde & Behman's, in Brooklyn.

SADIE SHAPES ECLIPSE ANNA

Women scream at a new vaudeville act styled "Looping the Loop" over at Hyde & Behman's in Brooklyn.

It is a woman cyclist who performs the feat—one accompanied apparently by the greatest of danger. There really isn't any risk, as would be generally realized were it not for the employment of common accessories to the "black art."

Lottie Brandon, a comely young woman in white blouse and breeches, known to vaudeville patrons for some time as a participant in the exciting "cyclo whirl," is the performer.

The loop is a frame some fifteen feet in diameter. It is made of steel and at the same time is a circle of lights and black background.

After getting up speed on a "home trainer," a contrivance of revolving rollers operated by a battery, Miss Brandon, mounted on a white wheel, suddenly shoots four times around the inner circumference, part of the time, of course, head downward.

This is where the screams of excited femininity come in.

The effect is that the whirling rider is carried around and around by centrifugal force resulting from her industrial operation of the pedals. But the act is probably a clever trick.

A certain "jerky" movement of the wheel and a mechanical clicking betray the fact that the bicycle is fastened to the loop by a crank-arm or some similar contrivance, thus excluding possibility of the machine falling. All that Miss Brandon has to do is to hang on for dear life. She risks nothing worse than a headache.

Notwithstanding, the act is a thrilling one, in witness of which listen to the screams.

"Sadie" shapes are shown off in some especially stunning gown at the Grand Opera-House. The dazzling toes and elegant figures put amorous Anna quite in the shade. They are easily the big feature of the Held "shape show."

The modiste who made the glove-fitting creations economized on cloth at the shoulders and hips and put what was saved here into a sort of way, as he edged to the further side of the stage.

"You've said that once already," laughed Miss Royce.

"Well," remarked the wry-faced Herbert, rubbing his smarting eyes, "you don't expect me to be original in a situation of this kind, do you?"

Is it the Bridge-Jumper's Body?

A drowned man, about thirty-five years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall, with sandy hair and wearing dark clothes, was found in the river at the foot of Jerusalem street and removed to the Brooklyn Morgue. A sheath knife, a pocket knife and one cent were the only articles found on the body. The police think he may be the man who jumped from the Bridge about two weeks ago.

Deputy Commissioner O'Byrne said today in speaking of the difficulties of compelling non-voters to do jury duty:

"We have no appropriation with which to push this work. We learn a man's address and send for him and ask him if he voted at the last election. If he didn't down goes his name on this list, and when we get a couple of hundred names we send them over to the County Clerk. They are the first selected for special jury work. When we get more money we shall get after the wretched ones. Lack of money is our great handicap."

Young Woman Tried to Jump "Overboard" from a Cab.

Lulu Schneider, a prepossessing young woman, who said she lived at No. 35 West Eighty-eighth street, was arrested in Harlem Police Court today, charged with intoxication. She hired a cab at One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street and Third avenue yesterday evening to be driven to the Waldorf-Astoria, and at Thirty-fifth street and Third avenue she tried to jump overboard.

"Your Honor," said the prisoner, "I didn't have time to drive. I think I must have been drugged. It was impossible for me to get drunk on three drinks. Two taken as high as ten and nobody would know it. Magistrate Mayo, impressed by her serious regard for her own capacity, discharged her."

Contagious Blood Poison

Is the name sometimes given to what is generally known as the BAD DISEASE. It is not confined to dens of vice or the lower classes. The purest and best people are often infected with this awful malady through handling the clothing, drinking from the same vessels, using the same toilet articles, or otherwise coming in contact with persons who have contracted it.

It begins usually with a little blister or sore, then swelling in the groins, a red eruption breaks out on the body, ulcers appear in the mouth, the throat becomes tender and raw, the hair, eye brows and lashes fall out; the blood becoming more contaminated, copper colored spots and pustular eruptions appear upon different parts of the body, and the poison even destroys the bones.

S. S. S. is a Specific for this loathsome disease, and cures it even in the worst forms. It is a perfect antidote for the powerful virus that pollutes the blood and penetrates to all parts of the system. Unless you get this poison out of your blood it will ruin you, and bring disgrace and disease upon your children, for it can be transmitted from parent to child. S. S. S. contains no mercury or potash, but is guaranteed strictly vegetable.

Write for our free home treatment book and learn all about Contagious Blood Poison. If you want medical advice give us a history of your case, and our physicians will furnish all the information you wish without charge.
